

Marine Engineering Diving Services

HSE POLICY

We are committed to ensure Offshore operational safety, human health and environment protection in all our projects.

Employees at every level, including management are collectively responsible and held accountable for the overall safety, health and environment programs.

Though HSE is a line responsibility, the Top management takes the ultimate responsibility for any unforeseen events.

We will implement proactive HSE system to comply with legislations and provide a frame work for reviewing and improving onsite and offsite performance.

Effectiveness in HSE will be achieved by employing qualified and skilled workforce and imparting appropriate training to reinforce HSE values.

We will involve our subcontractors in all HSE activities and actively participate in client initiated HSE programs.